All testable information will be provided during lectures to complete the structured note taking or specifically identified sections of the required text.

IV. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- A. Your first responsibility is scholarship. The grade you receive will be the result of your efforts, not a gift from the instructor.
- B. You should attend class regularly and be prepared to participate in classroom discussions and to take unannounced quizzes relating to text assignments and lecture material presented from the beginning of the course..
- C. You are encouraged to give your best effort throughout the semester. From the beginning, you should plan for a steady, organized, and continuous effort, which in the long run will prove more effective for your final grade than a last minute crash-cram policy. Your course grade is not determined solely by exam grade. Such factors as class participation, initiative, attendance, and individual research papers will be considered in grade computation.
- D. From time to time, special library and/or outside assignments will be made to members of the class individually and/or in groups. You are expected to read all assignments and fulfill your responsibilities to any group assignment.
- E. You are expected to read all assigned material and bring your text book to class. Keep informed on all assignments, especially after an absence.
- F. Good class notes are indispensable for earning a good grade, since both the material assigned and that discussed in class will be the basis for examination material.

- G. Special Work: A writing assignment will be required. The value is indicated in the semester grade computation and has considerable weight on your final average.

V. EXAMINATIONS

- A. There will be a minimum of three major examinations as follows:
1. Three-week exam
 2. Mid-term exam
 3. Twelve-week exam
 4. Final exam
- B. A student must be present for all examinations. Students who know in advance that they will be absent from an examination due to valid reasons must arrange to take an early examination. Unexpected absences due to illness or extenuating circumstance will require the student to see the instructor during the instructor's office hours (not during class time) about a make-up exam.
- C. Make-up exams will be modified from the original exam administered to the class during the testing period.
- D. Students without excused absences will be given a zero for the missed examination.
- E. Examinations may consist of objective (true/false, multiple choice, and fill-in-the-blank) or subjective (short answer and essay) questions, or a combination of both types. Students majoring in Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement must be able to communicate both orally and in written form, thus some questions requiring the composition and writing of an essay answer will be required.
